SURV[®] Continues Maine Expansion With The Hire Of Industry Sales Veteran

Wilmington, MA – November 10, 2008 - As part of its ongoing expansion effort in Maine, Surveillance Specialties, Ltd. (SURV[®]), a leading security systems integrator throughout New England, today announces the hiring of Jean Heath as a Senior Account Executive within its Portland, Maine office.

Jean Heath is a professional sales executive with more than 20 years of sales experience within the security industry. Jean previously worked for Protection One, where she focused on alarm monitoring sales and providing exemplary customer service to her clients. Most recently, Jean was employed by Advance Technology, where she sold integrated security solutions (Access Control, Video and Intercom etc.) and forged long-term relationships with her clients. Jean has a degree in Building Construction from SMCC and holds several industry specific certifications. Ms. Heath serves on the board of directors for the Maine Chapter of Associated Builders and Contractors, Inc. (ABC) and concurrently chairs the ABC committee on Government Affairs. Ms. Heath is a native and life-long resident of South Portland, Maine.

The addition of Jean Heath to the SURV team will allow us to strengthen our presence in the greater Maine marketplace and deliver unparalleled security integration services to a wider customer base," said Justin Davis, Chief Operating Officer. "Jean's long-track record of delivering value to her clients mirrors SURV's operating principles."
