SURV[®] Partners With CEIA USA
Adds new sales and customer support to New England

Wilmington, MA - August 20, 2010 - Surveillance Specialties, Ltd. (SURV[®]), a leading commercial security, door, frame and lock integrator in New England has signed on to be an authorized reseller of CEIA security and loss prevention products. The partnership will enable sales and technical support to New England territories. "We are extremely excited to partner with CEIA USA," stated Justin Davis, Chief Operating Officer at SURV. "CEIA's metal detection products naturally complement our existing product suite and in turn we view this partnership as a way to provide additional value to our customers. We look forward to supporting the CEIA product line throughout all of New England."

CEIA USA is the world leader in the field of metal detection that provides security solutions to a wide variety of industries including transportation, loss prevention, law enforcement and corrections, educational, military and public events. CEIA metal detectors are deployed at major airports, distribution centers, federal buildings, and sports facilities throughout the world. CEIA is ISO 9001 Certified and a GSA Contract Holder. "This partnership is important to our strategic sales efforts and we are very pleased to have SURV involved," said Mark Meyer, Director of Sales at CEIA USA.
